DETAILED ACTION

On October 30, 2007, an Office Action was sent to the Applicant rejecting claims 1-18 and 50-54. On March 31, 2008, the Applicant responded with arguments.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-18 and 50-54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hibbert (2006/0074793) in view of Schwartz (2004/0083164), as set forth in the previous Office Action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed March 31, 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The Applicant argues that neither reference discloses or teaches a first set of data received at the underwriting logic; a second set of loan data associated with the delivery process; loan data received prior to closing the loan; comparing the first and second loan data; comparing performed during delivery of the mortgage loan to the purchaser; or providing the underwriting recommendation to the seller and to the mortgage broker during origination of the loan. In response, Hibbert discloses that the loan data is received at underwriting logic. The underwriting logic may utilize a broker, to ensure that everything runs smoothly. The user of the underwriting logic cannot depend on the automated system to perform 100% of the work without a user performing due diligence to ensure that everything is on schedule and no errors (para.8 and 40-41). Schwartz teaches the comparison of loan information prior to closing to ensure that everything matches up and errors are prevented. All loan information is received and verified prior to and during (para.18, 21, and 69-71). The Examiner found it to have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the references to prevent discrepancies in the loan process that may increase costs.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
